

Russian-Chinese Week of Science and Innovation 2020

October 12th-16th, 2020

Kazan, Russia

The First Announcement

DEAR COLLEAGUES,

In 2020 Kazan National Research Technical University named after A.N. Tupolev-KAI (KNRTU-KAI), Kazan, Russia, as part of the ongoing cross year of interregional cooperation between Russia and China, conducts in Kazan a series of international scientific events, united by a common theme "Russian-Chinese Week of Science and Innovation".

Russia and China are the leading world powers whose bilateral relations have recently received a new impetus for development, including in the field of scientific and technical cooperation. Russia and China are actively showing mutual interest in the scientific potential in such modern areas as Additive Technology, Quantum Technology, Advanced Materials, Aircraft and Helicopter Engineering, etc. Scientific events are designed to further intensify exchanges between Russian and Chinese colleagues in order to further promote cooperation in relevant areas. In addition, within the framework of this week of science and innovation, scientific and methodological issues related to the training of highly qualified personnel and cooperation in the field of joint innovations in education, research and production will be considered.

Number of Participants: 500

Working Languages: English, Russian

Target Audience: representatives of the Russian and Chinese Academy of Sciences, Russian and Chinese Academy of Education, leading research centers and universities of Russia and China, socially responsible business with an interest in joint Russian-Chinese projects, students and PhD students of Russian and Chinese universities.

Events of «Russian-Chinese Week of Science and Innovation» in Kazan

1. Sino-Russian ASRTU Symposium on Advanced Materials and Processing Technology
2. Forum of Young Scientists on Advanced Materials and Processing Technology
3. Conference on Quantum Technology

4. Second Sino-Russian Forum on Helicopter Technology
5. Forum «Engineering Education of the Future: A New Paradigm»
6. Follow-Up Meeting of ASRTU Coordinators (only for ASRTU members!)
